What is your favourite thing about working in education?

Watching the students open up and become completely engaged asking questions and voicing their opinions during Board meetings. I am speaking more about the students that are appointed as Board members, they are usually very quiet and timid at the beginning but by the time their terms are over they have made such huge contributions. I think a big part of it is how our President and Board members welcome them to the table and encourage them to have a voice for the students.
